YINCOME LOSES TO REX ELEVEN

Philadelphia Champions Are Beaten by Locals 7 to 0.

Local followers of independent ootball were given a regular treat sterday afternoon at Union League ark when the Rex Club eleven defeated the Vincome Athletic Club. champions of Philadelphia, in a hotly fought and interesting game by

7 to 0 count. The locals were slightly outplayed by the visitors both at the rushing and of the game and forward passes, but the consistent work of Harris, Bieler and Cranston during the early periods annexed the lone touchdown. The Quaker City team made fourteen first downs during the bat-tie to nine registered by the North-east club, while Redding, of the vis-ltors, outpunted Bleier on the booting exchange.

Consistent line plunging by Harris and Bleier worked the pigskin into the visitors' territory in the into the visitors' territory in the first period and shortly after the second session had gotten under way Cranston, who had replaced Harris in the backfield, broke away for a haven't got together yet. They're probably waiting until the league of mations has been perfected.

Rex Team on Defense Rex were unable to do much with their opponents after this session as the final half found the locals on the defense throughout, two first downs and a block punt along with an intercepted forward pass keeping them from being scored upon. The line-up and summary:

Then should he take his dive when, if he has the football instinct, he can sense that knocking out of one tackler is going to pile up three or four others at the same time and hinder the defense long enough to let his man get away.

Interference consists in learning how to use the body and hips and shoulders, and bearing in mind the rules that prevent the use of hands or arms or tripping.

When taking a man out of play, the only way to cut him down is to get at his less with the whole side of your body.
